BLS Graduation Poem

Now that these three years are over,
was it really all that bad?
Let's take a look back,
at the things that made us happy and sad.

The first year was sometimes fun, sometimes a bummer,
and the time really flew by since we started in that 1989 summer.
That first day is not long in our past,
and our memories of it will always last.

It all started off with Prof. Kuklin, remember it's pronounced just like Brooklyn.
But that was just the first week,
when we were all still getting sleep.

Next came Legal Writing,
Oh boy was that exciting.
Shepard's, West's, and even Lexis,
all for rule 11, the problem that did vex us.

And who could forget Buffalo Creek or Gerald Stern, (sorry, I did not mean to make your stomach turn),
I really felt bad for the plaintiffs at the beginning,
but now, instead of drowning, I wish they had been swimming.

I thought we would never get out of Buffalo Creek.
How much work could they squeeze out of a little leak?
Once that headache was gone and settled,
there were other topics in which we meddled.

Civil Procedure stuck us with Prof. Stempel, he acted like he was God, but where was his temple?
At orientation he was really pretty funny,
but when it came to his classes, I slept just like a mummy.

There was also Contracts with Prof. Gilbride, that was a class we all took in stride.
He made sure to call on everyone, there was no place to hide, you could not get away from him, no matter how hard you tried.

For Torts we had good old Prof. Twerski, he did everything he could to confuse me.
His lessons were as clear as mud,
and there was not one court case he did not think was a dud.

Then came our finals after the holiday season,
truly a schedule with no sense or reason.
The week off between semesters was really great,
but do they think it is enough for us to rejuvenate?

When we got back the appellate brief consumed a lot of time, but at least it did not have to have meter or rhyme.
It was pretty lengthy, definitely not short,
and then had to be argued in moot court.

There were still other courses to do work for;
it never ended, we just got more.
Our classes switched from Contracts and Torts,
to other areas which clutter our courts.

We had our Property class with Prof. Johnson, he talked about a lot of cases but never resolved one
And we were introduced to the so called simple fee,
which actually seemed pretty complicated to me.

For Constitutional Law we had Professor Fink.
The opinions are so wordy, they really waste a lot of ink.
The Supreme Court's tests were always complicated;
hard to figure out no matter how long I contemplated.

And visiting Prof. Enker taught Criminal Law.
No matter what he was talking about, he was a bore.
The only thing that bothered him was walking in late,
but another mens rea discussion could wait.

After that there was no more fear,
we had made it past the first year.
And with just a couple more to bear,
we knew we could make it as graduation drew near.

That is not to say that upper classes were no-frills,
there were still a lot to take.
Evidence, Income Tax, Trusts and Wills, were still not a piece of cake

Corporations, Criminal Procedure, Legal Profession and Family Law
were just some of the others we had to endure
Then in between we had another writing requirement to do, at least by that time overworking ourselves was nothing new

But that was only the work,
we tried not to get behind.
If called on no one wanted to look like a jerk,
But sometimes we needed a break from the bump and grind.

That is why there were the parties,
and they were always good and hardy.
Who can forget all those good times,
and how they got school off of our minds.

There were other good things too.
Getting to know people, our friends old and new.
Without them we could never get through,
this crazy experience — sometimes it was a zoo.

Soon we will be students no more,
we face graduation with excitement and awe.
Our experiences together have been varied and vast,
through the work and the play it has been a real blast!

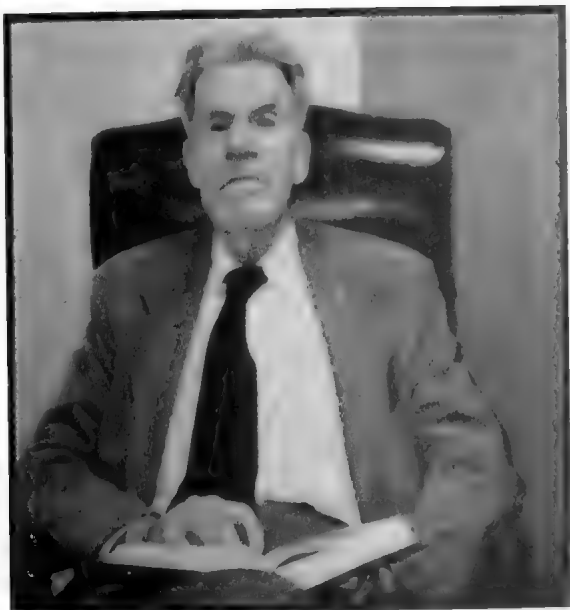

We will try to keep in touch, give each other a call,
while we are enjoying life and giving it our all.
As for now, we will go on and open up that next door,
while we remember our fond memories of Brooklyn Law.
